Wilson Appeals For Completion Of Great Moral Achievements Of War

"STRIKE" OF WHEAT RAISERS IN FORCE; WANT $3 WHEAT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 27.—To be in full force, Mr. McGreevy, in his statement, asserted the association membership of 10,000 was "unanimous" in its intention not to sell and predicted that the desired price would be realized within 60 days.

J. C. Muller, of Topeka, secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture, on the other hand, was emphatic in asserting there was no such "strike" in Kansas, and his view was being upheld by many grain men who asserted that reported falling off in deliveries yesterday at some terminal markets, might be attributed to several causes.

The "strike" called recently by the National Wheat Growers' Association, in a proclamation urging members to withhold their wheat from market until the $1 price was obtained, was denied by W. H. McGreevy, of Wichita, Kansas, secretary of the organization, not related to a "strike."

43 Alleged Night Riders Are Arrested

MONTGOMERY, ALA., October 27.—Forty-three alleged "night riders" have been arrested in Cullman, Marshall and Blount counties within the past few days, according to a message received at the state law enforcement and governor's offices this morning.

Whole Square Yard Of Ballot Will Be Received By Chicagoans

CHICAGO, October 27.—Printing of the ballots for next Tuesday's election, completed today, disclosed that the cost to be incurred by the voter at various polling places will be nearly a square, 30 inches by 30.

Clerk Clerk Sullivan of the election board declared that it cost $75,000 for extra paper and other expenses to have the names of four independent candidates for state offices printed at the top of four blank columns at the right of the ballot.

The paper for the 11,000,000 ballots for the city elections weighed 30 tons, he said and trucks would be used for delivery to polling places, instead of the time honored custom of having election officials call at the election offices and issue.

Wheeler Files Anti-Saloon Financial Report Under Protest

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 27.—Rebuking the report of the Anti-Saloon League of America was filed yesterday by protest by Wayne R. Wheeler, director of the league, with the clerk of the national house of representatives.

The report shows only contributions of $100 and over. Under the law it is not necessary to report contributions of less than $100.

Mr. Wheeler's report throws no light on the number or total amount of contributions of less than $100 each.

The report also fails to specify the period of time covered by the figures reported. That Ohio is largely financing the league is evident from the fact that all of the contributions, 11,000, of $100 or more, came from Ohio.

The report says that during the period up to Oct. 9 the following contributions of $100 or more each were received: Samuel Dunlap, Circleville, $100; E. M. Oggie, East Liverpool, $100; Pearl Selby, Portsmouth, $100; A. Z. Hiltz, Portsmouth, $100; Fred Copeland, Columbus, $100; Gardner Neff, Jeffersontown, $100; W. S. East, Fostoria, $100; J. C. Halligan, $200; W. H. Hoover, $100. In total the contributions is $1,000.

The report says that the league sent money to the Fifth, Tenth and Eleventh Ohio districts to aid in the election of dry candidates for congress.

OFFICIALS INVOLVED IN WHISKEY RING, CLAIM

LONDON, October 27.—A member of the miners' executive body informed the conference of trade union delegates today that there was every prospect of terms for a settlement of the coal strike being reached tonight.

It is reported the miners' leaders have accepted the government's terms and will submit them to a conference of the miners' delegates. The miners' leaders also are said to have agreed to the government's proposals.

A report was current in parliamentary circles that Premier Lloyd George would announce settlement of the coal strike to the house of commons this afternoon.

Donahey Wants More Women In State Offices

COLUMBUS, Oct. 27.—Filing more state offices with women of "proper qualifications," was proposed by Vic Donahey, Democratic candidate for governor, if he is elected, to representatives of the state leagues of women voters, who called at his office today.

Donahey declared he would consider appointment of women on the state board of administration and creation of more women factory inspectors, as asked by the delegation. He selected the state compulsory school attendance should be made "water tight," and said he wanted to end the miners' pension law made "adequate."

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Major A. V. Duley, prohibition enforcement officer in the central states district here, presented his resignation at Washington. It was announced at the federal building today, Major Duley is reported to have left Washington to accept appointment of Frank D. Richardson, special agent of the department of justice, as his successor.

Nine saloonkeepers were arrested by federal agents in a series of simultaneous raids shortly after noon today. They are said to have been named by "Mike De Pile." He is a confederate he is said to have made to United States District Attorney Charles M. Clyne, concerning the workings of an alleged "whiskey ring."

CHICAGO, October 27.—Mike De Pile, for many years a looming figure in the Chicago underworld, and alleged leader in recent whiskey graft deals, today was in custody of federal officials who seek to obtain from him details of "boozie ring" operations. He was taken into custody last night by deputy marshals and detained without bail after being questioned by Charles M. Clyne, United States district attorney.

According to Clyne, Heiter made a confession detailing the activities of the ring and implication a number of federal officials, state and city officers, railroad agents and small town mayors.

Heiter's name has been linked with the whiskey traffic by several saloon keepers who asserted he knew details of a recent $100,000 whiskey robbery here in which police were said to have aided the "boozie ring" in stealing the liquor.

Heiter's club officials admitted that the Belgians had won, having covered about $100 miles between Cincinnati and Lake Charlevoix, where they landed yesterday at North Hero Island.

"Harding Will Carry Ohio By Decisive Majority But It Looks Like The State Will Elect A Democratic Governor,"

—SAYS DAVID LAWRENCE

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright by Times Publishing Co.)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Senator Harding will carry Ohio by a decisive majority but it looks as if the state will elect a Democratic governor. If James Cox were running for governor again he probably would carry Ohio.

As a presidential candidate, Cox still has a host of friends, but the Democratic party on national affairs is unpopular.

The vote is not so much for Harding but against the Wilson administration. It is not against Wilson the man, but the Wilson cabinet and acts of the Wilson administration.

No other conclusion seems possible after a careful survey of this state, indeed there's a swing toward Cox at the present moment. Senator Harding has been steadily losing ground since his Des Moines speech and his unfortunate encounter with President Wilson on the difference between a "representative" of France and "spokesman." But the drift toward Cox, while noticeable, has not approached the sweeping proportions of a tide or even a wave. It's a surface drift.

Northern Ohio is for Harding. This city, which is normally Democratic and which helped Wilson materially when he carried Ohio, is doubtful. The county is also doubtful. The word "doubtful" in these instances is the difference between a narrow majority for Cox or Harding and an overwhelming majority for Harding. Most people expect the latter.

The reader who is not familiar with

Ohio politics can judge for himself what the situation is when he discusses that the war has been fought.

TEN "BARONS" CONTROL GREAT BRITAIN'S COAL

Duke of Northumberland, left, Lady Rhondda and Lord Gainsford.

The great coal resources of Great Britain are controlled by nine "coal kings" and one "queen." Their huge incomes have been hit by the strike of the million miners in the British Isles and the holdings themselves are threatened by the agitation afoot to nationalize the mines.

The "queen" in the list of coal magnates is Lady Rhondda. Among the "kings" are the Duke of Northumberland, Lord Gainsford, D. R. Llewellyn, Lord Tredegar, the Marquis of Bute, H. Seymour Berry and Lord Joicey. The said the duke's income is $15 an hour.

Snow!

TOLEDO, Oct. 27.—The first snow of the season in this district was reported Wednesday. Two inches fell northeast of Del Norte, Ohio, Tuesday night.

Prohibits Spent $13,017.82

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Reports of the national committee of the prohibition party filed today with the clerk of the house of representatives, showed receipts of $13,241.49 in the party's national presidential campaign and expenditures of $13,017.82 up to October 18.

Says Laws Do Not Conflict

COLUMBUS, Oct. 27.—That the Volstead prohibition enforcement act and the internal revenue law do not conflict was the substance of an opinion handed down today by Judge J. E. Sater of the federal district court. The opinion was rendered in a case involving both laws, in which Saterin R. Farhat had been convicted.

"It was evident that he was voicing the profoundest emotions of his heart," the declaration added. "On the whole the occasion was inexplicably solemn and tender."

"It was evident the president's intellectual powers were in no way impaired," the statement continued, "but the deputation felt that it was nothing less than tragic that the great president of the United States should have been brought to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labor for his country and for humanity."

The delegation said "they felt that this might be the president's final appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision that they are called upon to make."

President Wilson said:

"Three years ago it was my duty to summon you to the concert of war, to join the free nations of the world in meeting and ending the most sinister peril that had ever been presented in the history of the world. Your response to that call really settled the fortunes of war. You will remember that the morale of the German people broke down long before the strength of the German armies was broken. That was obviously because they could not look in the face that had come into the contest, and that therefore all their professions of right were discredited and they were unable to pretend that their continuation of the war was not the support of a government that had violated every principle of right and every consideration of humanity."

"It is my privilege to summon you now to the concert of peace and the completion of the great moral achievement on your part which the war represented and in the presence of which we are gathered."

These include the formal and "irreversible" abdication of former King Constantine, renunciation by Prince George, Duke of Sparta, of all claims to the throne, and recognition by the new king of the legality of the state of affairs resulting from the Salonic revolution.

OWING to the present relations existing between the Greek nation and the house of former King Constantine, the minister is requested to inform Prince Paul that, before there is official proclamation of his accession to the throne, certain guarantees must be given.

ATHENS, October 27.—Instructions will be sent by the government today to the Greek minister at Paris to present to Prince Paul, brother of the late King Alexander, the government's confidence, and to inform him that, according to the stipulations of the constitution, he has been called to succeed to the throne.

"WILSON SAYS ARTICLE 10 HEART OF COVENANT; M. BOURGEOIS SAYS NOT; WHAT'S U. S. TO BELIEVE?"--HARDING

MARION, Oct. 27.—Commenting today on a recent discussion of Article ten by M. Leon Bourgeois, president of the League of Nations, and that it was not considered so important by Europeans as Americans.

"This is most illuminating," said Senator Harding. "We are told by the French statesman offered a complete demonstration that the only safety for the world, that Article ten is its heart.

United States is to remain outside of the League, and says it is not important we may write on a plan for an association of nations that shall mean the same to everybody."

The statement of M. Bourgeois was contained in an Associated Press dispatch from Brussels. It is declared its effect would still be preserved in maritime law, having been enunciated in other articles. This can only mean marine ships, having been summoned to testify regarding the conduct of other articles. Doubtless it means indiscriminate killing of natives if Article ten were eliminated, prompted the investigation, and it was Article eleven would still have the expected that he would be the first witness to be examined.

LEAGUE ADVOCATES IN SENATE, COX'S APPEAL*Efforts Made To Arouse Racial Hatred To Defeat Him, Says Cox

CINCINNATI, Oct. 27.—Special plans for election of senatorial candidates favoring the League of Nations were made by Governor Cox of Ohio.

Tuesday in a tri-state tour touching West Virginia and Kentucky and closing last night with an address here where he began his career as a newspaper reporter twenty-five years ago.

The Democratic presidential candidate, reiterating that he would constrain his election—in which he expressed almost confidence—as a "positive mandate" for American entrance into the League, asked support for Democratic candidates here. In Ohio and in Kentucky also, whom he said, stood "four square" upon the basic issues.

"Don't tie my hands by electing a hostile senator," he urged, reiterating statements made in his formal announcement yesterday that he believed he would "reach an agreement with the Senate regarding the League."

Predicting a "fumble for the cause of peace" next week from yesterday in the election, Governor Cox reiterated his opinion that Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, Senator of Utah, Moore of New Hampshire, Watson of Indiana and other Republican senators would be defeated. The governor asked voters to "stand back" Saturday by voting to defeat him.

He said that the League from year to year was becoming stronger, and that a sufficient number of states had joined the League to make it a national organization.

Senator Harding, the governor predicted, would defeat the next four years at Marion, O., and referring to Senator Moses of New Hampshire, he asserted that he was "one Moses who might well have been ten."

An ovation of several minutes was given the governor when he entered Music Hall last night. He defended vigorously the principles of the league covenant with the treaty of Versailles.

"Our boys fought for it," he said. "We had prayed for it. We had promised it to our soldiers and to their mothers and unless it had been placed in the treaty of peace, we would have lost, in all probability, the outstanding compensation of that Great War."

The crowd approved vigorously the governor's statement that the league had universal endorsement of religious denominations. Prolonged applause greeted the names of Pope Benedict and Cardinal Gilmore, who are prominent sponsors, the speaker said.

The candidate's statement upon the Irish question was also cheered loudly. There was long applause again when he gave his views on the starvation of former Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork.

"How about MacSwiney?" a man shouted from a box.

"In my opinion," the governor replied, "MacSwiney died as a martyr. Many's cross, almost always from causes of injustice and oppression. I believe the martyrdom of MacSwiney will enrage the English people, as they were enraged against the injustice of King George visited upon the American colonies."

Some say that the Irish question is a religious question, the governor added, and the last 10 or 12 leaders of the Irish cause, most of them, have been Christians. Therefore it can't be regarded as a religious question."

What we count theills of life are often blessings in disguise, resulting in good—us in the end. Though for the present not joyous but grievous yet, if re-lived in a right spirit, they bear out fruits of righteousness for us, at last.—Matthew Henry.

"There are some classes of society which cannot be. To care the wants of the immortal black we do not want the negro to be slaves, but that does not mean that we want negro women for our wives. I know no better way to express the evils in the attempt to array class against class in America."

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO LEARN IDENTITY OF PERVERT WHO SHOWERED COX WITH REPUBLICAN LITERATURE

Investigation is being made by several persons in an effort to learn the identity of the misguided pervert who was guilty of such gross breach of proprieties Tuesday in hurling a quantity of republican campaign literature from the roof of the First National Bank Building in such a manner that it fell about Governor James M. Cox, while he was speaking.

Every effort will be made to uncover the individual or individuals responsible and it is stated that they will receive a lesson they will remember as long as they live.

Indignation is expressed by all classes of citizens at the senseless insult to the governor of the state and candidate for president. Deceitful republicans lied with demagogues in denouncing the dirty trick, many republicans personally expressing their regret to Governor Cox. The act reflects upon the whole city, as it holds the town up as being in the hoodlum class.

The Times regards the act as gross injustice to Portsmouth and for its part would welcome any information any one may possess that may lead to identification of the guilty person.

THIS IS DATE WHEN NEW GAS RATE WAS SCHEDULED TO BE EFFECTIVE

"Notes" Enjoyed Their Visit To Portsmouth

Chillicothe News-Advertiser of local interest Tuesday, said:

Many local Rotarians were in Portsmouth Monday evening, to inaugurate the new Rotary Club. In the city. The trip was made by automobile and the roads, for the greater part of the way were found in good condition, the rain of Monday not having been heavy enough to soften them. The Rotarians found three detours, one in Put-in-Bay and two in Selby county.

Two of them were bad and with careless driving would have been dangerous. The third, through cordfields, would be practically impassable in wet weather. No accidents marred the trip.

The local men left here at 2 p.m. and were in Portsmouth by four o'clock, or shortly thereafter. At Lucasville they were met and greeted by Joseph Hornbom, secretary of the Portsmouth club. The meeting and installation were held at the Hotel Washington. A delegation from Ironton was present and nearly a hundred men were seated at the tables in the dining room. The Portsmouth club gave its visitors a royal welcome and dinner, in nine courses.

President Wolfe, of the local club, presided over the first part of the meeting, and Addison P. Marshall was song leader. The singing of the local club and its double quartette made a hit, and one of the Ironton Rotarians inquired if the Chillicotheans had to pay dues to the club. It was explained by its worth. M. G. Chandler told of the old days in Selbyville and Portsmouth and then President Wolfe passed the gavel to Dan W. Connor, banker, president of the new club. He spoke to several members of the Portsmouth club and an Irontonian for brief talks and then the evening closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," and the usual salute to the flag.

The installation charge to the new club was delivered very simply but impressively, by Willard V. Swartzbaugh and following this President Wolfe called on Rev. G. C. McKinney, S. M. Veull and W. J. Sears to give five minute talks on various aspects of Rotary, its meaning and its work. The Portsmouth men obtained an insight into the purposes of the organization which they had not had before and were impressed by its worth. M. G. Chandler told of the old days in Selbyville and Portsmouth and then President Wolfe passed the gavel to Dan W. Connor, banker, president of the new club. He spoke to several members of the Portsmouth club and an Irontonian for brief talks and then the evening closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," and the usual salute to the flag.

"Bake with Royal and be Sure"

BILLY WHISKERS
 by FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

The cage before which Billy stopped was marked in big gilt letters: "AFRICAN LION KING OF BEASTS."

Somehow this did not please Billy Whiskers. Though he would not have admitted it, down deep in his heart he thought that he himself was probably the King of beasts, and it did not suffice him to see that another was thus publicly given this proud title.

"I'll stop and see what he looks like," thought Billy. "I don't believe he is so much after all. If I get the chance I'll make him feel small."

All this time Billy had not been able to see the lion on account of the crowd of people before his cage. At last he squirmed to the front row and took his first look. That alone would have been quite enough for Billy that he was justly entitled to be called the King of beasts, but other proof was not lacking.

New Display Of Tinlac Scores Great Hit Here

Unique And Attractive Display of Celebrated Medicine Attracts
Much Attention—Cost $60,000
To Produce

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest has been placed in the show-window of the Fisher & Stricklin Pharmacy, on corner of 10th and Chillicothe streets in this city, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tinlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietors of the store state that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tinlac state that the total cost will exceed fifty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tinlac, peeling them upon the backs of cattle, elephants, flames and other beasts of burden for transportation by hand and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton, where the artist has effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tinlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are working at the Tinlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tinlac, until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

600 Bottles A Day

From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tinlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tinlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body-builder and has a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they received, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

change is scarcely less strong than the desire for a change in government personnel at Washington.

Some of my Democratic friends here whose judgment in the past has been accurate, whose viewpoint is dispassionate and whose equanimity is large, insist that the whole thing is a reaction from the war.

"I am more particular than I have ever been," said one prominent Democrat. "I am more anxious for Cox to win than for Wilson to win in 1916—and you know how hard I worked for that—but I can see no chance for the Democratic national ticket in Ohio this year—I am afraid the majority will not be less than 100,000 for Harding."

From every source, Republican and Democratic, the writer obtains information that Vic Donahay, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is much stronger than former mayor Davis, of Cleveland, the Republican candidate. This merely proves the point that it

BOY IS KILLED BY TRAIN

BULLETIN

According to information received over the wire by The Times, this afternoon, the boy killed at the Terminal this morning, is probably Charles Dean Richardson of Picketon. He had been living with his mother, Mrs. Wesley Richardson, at Chillicothe for the past month where she had been nursing her mother, Mrs. Martha Ashley. Another feature of the case is that Mrs. Ashley died today. Mrs. Richardson thus loses her son and her mother the same day.

It was stated at Chillicothe that the description of the boy killed here tallied exactly with that of the Richardson boy.

An unidentified white boy, about 17 years of age, was killed in the N. and W. yards at East Portsmouth just east of the Pump about 7:30 o'clock this morning.

There were no injuries about the head and face and right leg three parts of his body escaping the wheels of the car under which he fell.

There were no eye witnesses to the fatal accident and it is presumed that he was riding a freight train and fell under its wheel.

Boy Had Been Well Cared For

There are no marks on the body that would lead to the identification. His body is clean and his hair shows that it has been well kept, and according to Coroner J. D. Hendrickson who examined the body at Lynn's morgue the boy was not a common hobo and has been well cared for.

He well taken care of by his parents. He has grey eyes. He wore a blue serge suit, short trousers, a dark gray cap with green lining a white shirt with black and lavender stripes, B. V. D. underwear, black stockings No. 10 size 7 or 8. The suit was of the "B" wear pledge. Insured Clothing for boys.

DON'T GO BACK TO OLD LONG DAY OF LABOR AND SMALL PAY URGES COX; UPHOLDS LEAGUE

Democrat Leader Says
League Will Prevent War;
Appeals To All To Keep The
Faith With Soldier Dead

(By H. W. August)

A new order, substituting human happiness and welfare for human misery, and the suppression of the "semiformal oligarchs" were advocated by Governor James M. Cox, the choice of the Democratic people as their presidential candidate, in his speech to the thousands of people gathered in Government Square Tuesday afternoon who resisted inclement weather conditions to hear him speak.

Governor Cox reiterated his statement that he has stood by throughout the campaign, that the country was in the most prosperous condition in its history at the present time and that a return to "normalcy" as advocated by Senator Harding, would mean to go backward instead of forward.

"The time has come for a change in the world," asserted the speaker, "and I am in favor of a new order that makes war impossible. That's why I am in favor of the League of Nations as the covenant in its present form will provide a world peace if accepted by the voters of America.

"The soul of America has been aroused during the last two weeks," stated Governor Cox, "and it has become impossible to address the people who have turned out wanting to know about the nation League. During this time I have talked to people not by the thousands but by the acres."

During the early part of his speech, Governor Cox recalled to the crowd that the last time he was in Portsmouth he was escorted by the War Mothers of this city, who had given their sons in the cause of humanity and to whom he paid a touching tribute.

Pleads for League
To Avoid War

"The sons of those War Mothers longed then in order that there might be no more war," said the speaker, pleading for the adoption of the League of Nations, that he classified as a document that repudiated war. "I remember well the pledge that we were fighting for at that time. And I am here to make good on the pledge."

"Do You Want to Go Back?" Asked Cox

"The Republican party is talking about getting back to normalcy," asserted Governor Cox, "and I want to know how many of you want to get back to normalcy, which means yesterday, the long day of labor and the small amount of pay."

Answering to widespread statements made concerning the Wilsonian League of Nations, Cox asserted that the covenant of the League was not written by President Wilson but by 120 of the foremost thinkers and scholars in the world.

"I spoke in one little mining camp in West Virginia Monday," said Cox, "where for a long time they haven't had enough cars to give them steady work. Sunday enough cars arrived to keep them busy for a long time. They were ordered to report to work bright and early Monday morning but they said that the mine would not work on that day because a friend of theirs was coming. That is the spirit that is coming. That is the spirit that is enveloping the interesting men."

"It is the spirit that is enveloping the interesting men."

"There has been a new plan evolved to which 43 nations in the world have subscribed," asserted Governor Cox, "that will bring about this accomplishment and the only reason the United States of America is not in it is because a senatorial conspiracy was formed to keep it out."

Charles Harding
With Inconsistency

Governor Cox charged Senator Harding, his Republican rival for the presidential chair, with inconsistency in his stand on the league question, asserting that he changed his stand so often "it made one dizzy trying to follow his changing mind day after day."

"I haven't seen tonight's paper so I don't know what Harding's present stand on the League of Nations is but I am confident that it is different from what it was yesterday," charged Cox. "He says he is against going into the League. I am in favor of going into the League for spiritual as well as practical reasons."

"Unless we go into the League of Nations, America and the entire world will suffer the greatest financial crisis the world has ever known," charged the speaker, "but if we go into the League this country will be the recipient of great prosperity."

Speaks to Crowd
At High School

Speaking at the overflow meeting in the high school auditorium, Governor Cox asserted that he was fighting for the cause of peace between all the nations of the world.

"The common tragedy of the World War has made possible the formation of an association of nations never before possible," asserted the candidate, "to the cheers of the people present, and civilization that is but a composite of nations, realizes that the world cannot stand another war like that between 1914 and 1918."

"The charge that if we went into the League our boys would go overseas to fight at every little quarrel in Europe is ridiculous," said the Democratic candidate, "the sole power to declare war rests with the United States Congress and it cannot be changed."

Governor Cox reiterated the statement made at Ashland, Ky., that he stands for reservations to Article Ten, stating specifically that the United States assumes no obligation to use its military forces unless authorized by Congress.

"In the League or out of the League it is the same. The sole power to declare war rests with the Congress of the United States and it always shall. Our representative in the League of Nations will be guided by the vote of the Senate of the country."

"Republicans assert that England has six votes in the League of Nations and therefore we should stay out," charged Governor Cox. "England has but one vote as we will have one vote if we go in. As you know, there are nine votes in the council. England has one, France one, Japan has one, Italy has one, and we will have one. The other four votes go to the lesser nations. In the assembly England has a vote and her five possessions have a vote. But what ever-servant in the audience would deny that Canada was entitled to a vote? But a unanimous action in the assembly is required for any movement. And the functions of the assembly are threefold, the making of rules and regulations, consideration of membership applications and the revision of international law."

"I have been asked about the reservation made at the body trick to interrupt speaker, gets disapproval of audience.

tion to the League of Nations, forcing England and Japan, for instance, to vote in the League, if there should be any controversy between them," answered Cox, "and that would have been embodied in the League of Nations today in the Senatorial oligarchy had not voted it down."

Cox made a final plea for the league in behalf of our soldiers who had fought and died for the preservation of the country.

"Many of our boys, $1,000 of them were killed in the war. They made these sacrifices to secure everlasting peace. If they fought and died to prevent war, it is our duty to vote to prevent war."

"If I am elected President, and I believe I shall be, I shall not attempt to run the government alone but shall consult with the greatest minds of the country. And I want the people to understand that I am running for President of the United States and not Woodrow Wilson."

A large crowd was gathered at the N. and W. depot, Tenth and Waller streets, to greet Governor Cox as he boarded his train for Cincinnati.

In Making No Partisan Campaign

The text of Governor Cox's speech follows:

"I am not making a partisan campaign this year. I think upon reflection, you will agree with me that in every crisis that has arisen in this country, the independent thought of the country rose above and engulfed the party wall. I come to you from the great Western country and I found out there that men and women are thinking solely of the honor of the country; that their thought is that of patriots, not of partisans. Let us dedicate our thought to this consideration—what our duty as Americans are? And let us ask ourselves whether we should not strip ourselves of every consideration—as the soldier boys did in the face of their great duty—every consideration, except our duty as Americans, because while the partisan spirit has run high throughout the years, we are in the last analysis Americans first, and in that spirit I desire to counsel with you."

"I think I can with full propriety ask the men and women of all political parties whether we can't agree in this—that the leadership of the Republican party has been assumed by the same old crowd that Theodore Roosevelt ran out of the franchises in 1912."

"I ask whether it is not also true that this crowd—the members of the Senatorial oligarchy—did not write the Republican platform, and whether it did not nominate that candidate for the Presidency? I ask you in all seriousness, because I have no quarrel with the rank and file of the Republican Party. My contest this year is against the members of the Senatorial oligarchy, which formed and has maintained until this hour the most reprehensible conspiracy against the civilization of the world that this planet has ever witnessed."

"I must without preliminary discuss with you the outstanding phases of the greatest question that has ever been presented to a free people in all of the history of the centuries. I find as I go through the country that the soul of America is awakened; it is awakened as it was during the war, a spiritual awakening. The cause of

THOUSANDS GATHER IN SQUARE AND STAY DESPITE DOWNPOUR OF RAIN

A downpour of rain in the midst of the speech of Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, to the thousands of people assembled in Government Square at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, failed to check the enthusiasm of the huge crowd that received every striking statement of Ohio's governor with a bursting round of applause. When the heavy rain began hundreds of umbrellas were raised, but few in the crowd left the scene of the speaking.

It was regrettable indeed that it should rain on the day one of the country's presidential candidates was present, but it must be said in favor of the Democratic officials that every preparation had been made for any emergency.

The huge crowd that packed the vicinity of Gallia Square in all directions, was undoubtedly the largest and most enthusiastic political gathering held in this city in recent years. Cheers for the Democratic presidential candidate were heard long before the governor ever got in appearance.

It seemed that every Democrat who claims this city as his home, was out for the speech, except those that were out of town. Many Republicans were also in the crowd, eager to "size up" the Democratic candidate.

The American spirit of fair play was violated at the meeting when some one unseated hundreds of sheets of paper from the top of the First National Bank Building, that showed pictures of the prominent Republican candidates and advocated their platforms. Governor Cox stopped a second at the interruption and said: "There has hardly been a meeting held throughout the campaign that has not been interrupted in some similar fashion." The crowd, regardless of political affiliation, showed its American spirit by loudly cheering the speaker and voicing disapproval of the petty trick. It is regrettable that such a body trick should be played on any one who is a guest of Portsmouth.

Governor Cox expressed himself as highly pleased with the huge crowd that turned out to hear him in Government Square despite the adverse weather conditions.

Immediately after the completion of the speech to the crowd in Government Square, the Democratic candidate was rushed to the high school auditorium where he spoke to a gathering that packed that room to its capacity with many standing outside and in the wings. Hundreds who had heard him speak the first time rushed to the high school in a vain endeavor to hear him again. Dr. Goldsmith spoke to the crowd in the high school auditorium while Governor Cox spoke in Gallia Square.

The Democratic candidate spoke at the high school up until the minute his train was scheduled to leave for Cincinnati and then was rushed to the N. and W. depot. He expressed regret at both meeting places that he was unable to talk longer.

The special train bearing Governor Cox and party and the newspaper men arrived at Fullerton about 2:15 and the party was immediately transferred to waiting taxicabs that brought them across the river by ferry to Portmouth where they were greeted by a waiting reception committee.

After the speeches were over and in a hurried session on the way to the depot, Governor Cox expressed satisfaction at the attitude the people are taking on the issues of Negroes during the last three weeks, during which time he declared that "there had been an awakening among the American people on this question. They are beginning to see that it means the end of all war."

COX IS SOME PILOT; STEERS FERRYBOAT ACROSS RIVER

Piloting the ship of state may not become one of the duties of Governor James M. Cox, who for three terms has guided the state of Ohio through the most turbulent times in the history of the world; but he demonstrated Tuesday afternoon that he could successfully guide almost any kind of a craft when he held the wheel of the ferry from Fullerton across to Portsmouth.

As soon as the special party boarded the ferry at Fullerton from the special train, Captain John Davis of the "Ironclad" signified for Governor Cox to take the wheel and the head of the Democratic party complied with alacrity amid the cheers of the onlookers.

The whistle of the ferry was blown continuously from one side of the river to the other by Governor Cox, complying with the request of Captain Davis who said: "Go to it, we've lots of steam."

"O, boy, I hope he pilots the League of Nations," that way remarked one of the taxi drivers aboard.

You have to hand it to Jimmy at that, for being some pilot.

Handled Big Crowd Splendidly

Chief Diesel, Safety Director S. Strauss and Officers Schreeder, Hinckley, Flowers, Bentz and Payne handled the big crowd in Government Square splendidly. They diverted traffic to the side streets and kept everybody moving and there was little or no confusion.

Shields And Getz Handled Cox Special To Cincinnati

Engineers Tommy Shields and Fred

Getz, of this city, the latter as pilot, had the honor of pulling the throttle of the locomotive which pulled Governor Cox's special train from this city to Cincinnati over the N. & W. yesterday afternoon. H. E. "Pop" Reed, of this city, was the conductor and had charge of the train which made a brief stop on the way, the Democratic standard bearer greeting a big crowd that had congregated at Batavia.

Mass Meeting

Hon. Grover C. Maxwell of Columbus and Hon. Cleona Sculley of Batavia, candidate for congress, will be the principal speakers at mass meetings to be held by the Democrats at Powellsburg and Wheelersburg this Wednesday night. Other speakers at these meetings will include William

A. Inman, Attorney, B. F. Kimble and Ralph Ary and Robert Callahan, Democratic candidate for state senator.

The orators will discuss the League of Nations and other live issues of the campaign which the Democrats are waging up in vigorous style.

MR. JORDAN TO ATTEND

Alvin N. Jordan is making arrangements to go to Cincinnati on Oct. 29 when the Board of Army Engineers hearing arguments for the waterway and canals to connect Lake Erie and the Ohio river will inspect the south and terminal facilities of the Miami-Erie canal.

Last week Mr. Jordan made an automobile trip to Sandusky with the engineers, taking them to that city from here, two days being taken for the trip. They were shown the high bridges over the Scioto and the width of the river from Portsmouth to Columbus and the Sandusky river from its source to Lake Erie. The engineers were very much interested in the trip and the facts shown them and before leaving Mr. Jordan told him that the Central Route from Portsmouth to Sandusky had more advantages than they had ever dreamed of. The engineers and Mr. Jordan were entertained by the Charters of Commerce of Columbus and Upper Sandusky, on the trip to the lake city.

FOUR CANADIAN PROVINCES DRY

OTTAWA, ONT., October 27.—Importation of liquor will be possible for sixty days in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, which voted dry in a general plebiscite yesterday. The Canadian temperance act adopted at the last session of parliament provided that proclamation proclamations by the government could not be issued until sixty days after the adoption of the bone dry principle by the provinces.

The majority for bone dry prohibition in Manitoba probably will reach 15,000, although the city of Winnipeg turned in a "wet" majority of more than 6,000. In Saskatchewan the prohibition majority probably will be more than 10,000. Incomplete returns from Alberta indicated a "dry" majority of more than 15,000.

Preliminary returns from Nova Scotia indicated a "dry" victory of 30,000 majority.

In Manitoba and Saskatchewan only 60 percent of the voters voted while in Alberta it is estimated that not more than 35 percent of the voters went to the polls.

Former King Constantine Still Appears To Maintain Attitude He's Occupant Of Greek Throne

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Former King Constantine of Greece still appears to maintain the attitude that he is occupant of the Greek throne, says a dispatch to the London Times from its Louvain correspondent. For this reason, it is uncertain whether he will consent to the accession of his son, Prince Paul, who is better known to the inhabitants of Louvaine as an excellent dinner than a student of international politics, the dispatch asserted.

It is understood no formal invitation

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, October 27.—United States steel was the outstanding feature at the opening of today's stock market, a block of 2,500 shares changing hands at $3 5-8 down to $3 1-2, representing an extreme decline of 1 1/8 points. This was attributed to disappointment by speculative interests at the failure of the steel directors to declare an extra dividend on the common stock. The independent steels were slightly lower, but oils, shipments, sugars and utilities were higher by fractions to a point. Exchange on London was firm, probably in anticipation of favorable advice later in the day regarding British industrial conditions.

The market became distinctly heavy during the morning, virtually the entire list yielding to the broadest of sellings of the week. Steels were especially vulnerable, reacting 1 to almost 3 points and equipment, motor, oil, chemical and paper shares, each 1 to 2 points. Tobacco and rubber joined the recession, and also insurance rails, the latter however in moderate degree. Among junior rails Wisconsin Central was conspicuous for its 15 point loss. The 9 percent opening ratio for money contributed to the market's reversal, but the rate for British exchange continued to strengthen.

Further unsettlement in the domestic industrial situation and scarcity of money encouraged the shorts to resume aggressive tactics in the stock market today. Sales approximated 475,000 shares.

The closing was heavy.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Oct. 27—Fresh advances in the price of wheat took place today on general buying which was chiefly directed to meet the needs of the farm strike and to yesterday's large export business. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1/2 higher, were followed by substantial gains all around and then something of a reaction.

Corn sympathized with the strength of wheat, opening 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, increased December to $23 to $24. Thereafter the market tended to sag.

Oats were firm with other grain and started 1 1/2 to 2 higher. December 54 to 55. Additional gains were scored and a moderate setback followed.

Provisions lacked support, despite the upturn of cereals and higher quotations on hogs.

Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of sore throat—in that throat it's wicked condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes. Then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Take TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when sick. 5c, 6c, 10c and $1.00.

Tonight will be your chance to see Alice Joyce in "The Prey," at Exhibit Theatre. A wonderful 2-Act Super-Production that is the Talk of the Town. Don't miss it. Also Joe Martin, the Monkey Comedian in "A Prohibition Monkey." In "The Prey," an Alice Joyce special production, the charming Vitagraph star, is given exceptional opportunities for plays of expression. At her first appearance in the picture drama Helen Headon is a happy and carefree girl to whom love has come with all its rote promises. In these opening scenes the rare charm of the beautiful screen star is revealed to excellent effect, providing a sharp contrast for the emotions she is called upon to display in the following scenes.

After troubling her lover a foul good night, Helen, alone with her own sweet thoughts and recollections, sees the engagement ring given her by James Cagin. In the midst of her happy reflections she is startled by the sound of her father's voice raised in anger. She creeps down a stairway, warning over the banister, and hears her father denounce young Stansdale as an ungrateful cur! She pleads with her lover to explain, but he says he can tell her nothing except that he is trying to save her father from disgrace.

The extra added attraction tonight for the last time offers Joe Martin, the funny monkey comedian, in "A Prohibition Monkey," and it's a smash.

Wonderful actress was Constance Binney in "29 East" at The Temple Last Night. Your Tax Collector is in town.

Lincoln Tonight. Big Feature Drama "The Mother of His Children" Starring Gladys Brockwell.

Gladys Brockwell, the girl of a thousand expressions, is here tonight in "The Mother of His Children," This feature play by Fox is a drama of high life in Paris.

A story of rival sculptors, a princess and jealousy.

Show Gladys Brockwell in a new role as beautiful Arabian Princess.

In which the destiny of a woman is woven by little children's hands.

Story of the complete and faithful love of an Oriental slave for his master—and her faith in him.

A drama crowded with powerful situations woven in a faultless manner.

A tale of the East and West in which mother-love regenerates the temptuous soul of an Arabian princess.

Louise Glau in "Sex"—Opens at the Lyric Tomorrow

Brilliant screen artist that she is, and her home also gives a poignant insight into the heart of the woman who is destined to pay for despising the happiness of others by the destruction of her own castle of dreams. The curtain of "Sex" is said to be one of the most tremendous scenes ever staged for the film cameras. Its finish is surprising and unusual and clearly shows the genius of the producer, J. Parker Reed, Jr., production, released by Hodkinson.

An Adeline Renault, dazzling butterfly of the Frivoly Roof, Miss Glau is a scintillant, entrancing picture, as volatile, as radiant as life can be in the wild nocturnal vortex of Manhattan. Then, as a different Adeline, married, devoted to her husband.

Worry No More.

A missionary just returned from the Belgian Congo who describes the newly discovered tribe of pygmies: "Although they are completely uncivilized, they will neither lie nor steal, and will marry only one wife." Right here is where we quit worrying about the future of civilization.—Arthur H. Feltwell, in Leslie's.

WONDERFUL

"The Westerners," A Powerful Drama of Stewart Edward White's Great Story of the "Black Hills," Is The Sterling Attraction at the Strand Tonight and Tomorrow.

"The Westerners," which will be the feature attraction at the Strand tonight and tomorrow is a plurielization of Stewart Edward White's famous novel of the same name, produced by Benjamin B. Hampton for Great Authors Pictures, Inc., and enacted by such cushion screen artists as Roy Stewart, Mildred Maning, Robert McElroy, Wilfred Lucas, Graham Pettigrew, and Mary Jane Irving. The story is laid in the Black Hills in the days of the gold rush and tells in an absorbing manner of the implacable revenge of Michael Lafond, a half-breed Indian, against Jim Buckley, scoundrel, who caused Lafond to be driven from a wagon train for insulting one of the white women. Lafond rises to power in the hills, marries the white woman, kidnaps her daughter and raises the child as his own daughter, later using the girl as part of his scheme of revenge against Buckley.

Lafond plans to trap Buckley to his ruin and to force the girl, Molly, into the life of a dance hall woman. Now Lafond's plans are frustrated and Molly is saved by the man she loves while the half-breed meets his just deserts in a plunge down a steep embankment in a buckboard, bringing a smashing climax to an enthralling narrative. Also Big V comedy.

The Old Knocker Knock.
In every small town there is a tough old, backslidder who likes to point with pride to the fact that Tommy Brown, who was the worst boy in town, is now a preacher; and that Willie Green, who was the best boy in Sunday school, is now in the pen—North Powder (Ore.) News.

See Her Tonight.

Another of those quality productions that the Temple Theatre management is more than pleased to present under an absolute money-refunded-if-not-satisfied guarantee is "29 East," which will be shown for the last time tonight. Unusually audiences greeted this famous picture last night and we can safely say that every one who was fortunate enough to see this intensely human portrayal of everyday life was more than pleased. It is not a drama of high society life, nor is it a sex play. It is just the most natural depiction of the struggles and negotiations of a small town minister's daughter who goes to the big city to earn her living, that we have ever seen. She is adored, of course, by the brawling house boys at "29 East," but her love comes to her safely to success and to the men of her dreams. Don't fail her hence, has made himself a member of the "four hundred." He is known

PIPELESS CALORIC FURNACE
The Original Patented Pipeless Furnace

The Caloric system of heating is an entirely new application of the principles of conveying heat. Cold air falls—warm air rises. The Caloric's one register is built to take advantage of this simple scientific fact. The outer channel sucks cold air out of the house, carries it to the bottom of the furnace, where it is purified, and passes over the radiation chamber up into the house by the inside warm air channel. The warm air is lighter and travels upward rapidly. Although no perceptible draft is noticed, the warm air seeks out every nook and corner in each room so that the temperature over the entire house is practically the same, the saving room upstairs being as cozy as the living room where the register is usually put.

We are enthusiastic about the Caloric. The remarkable results obtained by more than fifty thousand owners last year during the coldest weather proved our every claim. We KNOW that it will make good and save 35% of your fuel bill.

Come in during Demonstration Week. You will not be obligated, and may learn many things that will mean more and better heat with a decided saving of money.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL

HIS campaign has been rather prolific of strange and amusing features, but there is none that must be so strong of chagrin to Will Hays, the irrepressible and versatile chairman of the Republican national committee as the rebuff that attends his offer of $6,000 to the young man who would submit the best model for a Republican national platform.

This prize was won by Carl Smith Joslyn, a student at Harvard college, and he was duly exploited by pictures and words in the daily press and committee bulletins. But now comes the aforementioned Carl Smith Joslyn and announces through that oracle of New England culture, the Springfield Republican, that he is going to run for James M. Cox, for president. He gives as his reason that he can not approve Harding's wiggling and wobbling-on-the-league-of-nations.

A BASE BETRAYAL

A Chicago grand jury has indicted eight members of the Chicago American league team for conspiring "to throw" the world's series games of 1919. There will not be much surprise that it has indicted Hal Chase, once a member of the Cincinnati Reds along with them.

The indictments bring up a striking contrast between loyalty and honor and disloyalty and dishonor. The owner of the Chicago club is Charles A. Comiskey, well designated "the Old Roman." He began his career as a ball player and while he was an excellent player it is doubtful if he possessed more natural skill and aptitude for the game than anyone of the eight who betrayed. Belief, however, was strong in him that man should give the best that was in him to any service he undertook to render and as the game scribbled put it, "he was always out there" shirking nothing and extending his efforts to the limits. The quality he put into his work gave a sure insight into his character and when opportunity came to him in a financial way he found no difficulty in getting the means to back him and so he rose in due time to be the most respected figure in the base ball world.

Tis said envy loves a shining mark and so does perfidy and dishonor too for treachery could not have found a more illustrious mark in the field than when it struck at the noblest Roman of them all.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

As stated before we have a high appreciation of the Huskies service, running daily in The Times, and we confess that is increased, or rather made more firm, by a report from this service.

A Governor Cox's coming should have been fixed for an earlier date. Then rain wins needed surely for sometime. But thanks to both anyway and the welcome of neither was any the less heartily because so long delayed.

Get set for the Red Cross drive.

Rumor is never equipped with a motor of less than eight cylinders.

It might help some women to decide if pictures of the candidates were printed on the ballots.

A considerable part of life is made up of hearing other folks tell you things you do not want to know.

Some men profess to like classical music, but they prefer to hear the music of the cash register.

There are many men who prefer soft answers, but they want a little hardness in their beverages.

Even sugar may soon again be on speaking terms with the average pocketbook.

The trouble with a lot of us is we expect others to keep society from going to smash.

Some folks declare there is nothing more to be said on the subject, then rave on for another hour.

When a man says he is more or less interested in what you are trying to sell him, set it down as less.

POLY AND HER PALS

Making Schoolbooks

By Frederick J. Maske.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 21.—This city is one of the country's fountain-heads of learning. Aside from harboring the great and awe inspiring Harvard University, numerous lesser schools, and endless book shops specializing in all degrees of wisdom, Cambridge possesses the factory of the largest school book publishing company in the country. This plant regularly keeps 2,000,000 school books on hand in its storage bins, and even with this huge reserve the presses have to run night and day at the busy seasons.

Right now, the factory is working at the highest pressure. Schools from Florida to California send to the company's offices in Boston for books, and while most schools are opened by this time, orders are still piling in. Many school officials, it seems, have a way of waiting until the term is about to open and then deciding on the books to be used and the company to patronize. This casual attitude of the local powers is one of the chief causes of white hair in the text book business. No outfit has yet been located that can tell a buyer how many physics or spelling books of a certain kind will be called for, so that it has to estimate a reasonable number and then work at top speed if orders exceed expectations.

This company, with its stock of 2,000,000 books, finds it necessary to keep no less than 4,000 different titles in stock, so that a copy of a certain book becomes antiquated or is supplanted by a later edition, the old copies on the shelves are torn up to be sold as junk.

Walking along the storage rooms you can catch glimpses of spelling book and arithmetic that call up pictures of your early struggles with culture. Less familiar works are here too, such as "The Application of Calculus to Mechanics," "Word Formation in the Roman Sermon Pidgels," and "A Grammar of the Inuit Language." The guide logically explains that Inuit means Eskimo, that this particular work is rarely called for, and that it sells for five dollars, an unusually high rate for a plain old school book.

Books That Do Not Sell

Books of this type are the "Journals" of the school book business. Some patient scholar spends perhaps 20 years writing an abstruse thesis on which neither he nor his publisher can possibly make any money, because few copies will be sold. Yet the demands of advanced scholarship require such books, and the larger publishers must be the ones to produce them, even though they often know in advance that the books mean a loss. Paderewski's works, however, make up only a small fraction of the plant's output.

The Wentworth books are one of the notable successes of the text book history. When George A. Wentworth was a young teacher at Exeter Academy, 35 years ago, he spent his nights working on a text book of geometry.

He succeeded in publishing this, and immediately started work on an algebra. In time, he was so busy writing books that he gave up teaching entirely. Later, his son, who grew up to be a mathematical scholar, assisted him, and this son still has his hands full revising the long list of works and writing new ones to meet the demands of changing courses of study.

When Wentworth published his first book he was an unknown teacher who simply was wrapped up in mathematics and possessed the faculty of putting his theories and mathematical processes in logical arrangement and clear language. Special interest in a subject and mastery of the mechanics of text book writing are the main qualifications of any successful author of school books.

An editor here tells us that his house is always looking for good material, irrespective of the author's status. Most of the people who write school books are teachers, he says.

In the past, they say, school books have remained remarkably stable in price, though publishers have been constantly increasing expenditures to improve the appearance of their project, or they have found a better way of reaching it, and out of their experience come the manuscripts which bring about so many advances in education.

SOFT COAL OPERATORS AGREE TO AID IN PRICE REDUCTION

Support Pledged Palmer

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—At an attorney-general meeting of approximately 150 coal operators throughout the country held yesterday, following a meeting of the National Coal Association, it was the judgment of the operators, both association members and others, that the coal operators throughout the country will co-operate in bringing about the elimination of unreasonably high prices and unfair practices, where such exist, and to that effect a resolution was passed, whereby each bituminous coal district to be immediately established a committee to negotiate fully with the department of justice and federal district attorneys to bring about this action.

This action was taken following the receipt of a message today from the attorney-general, requesting the bituminous coal operators of the country to co-operate with the department of justice in bringing about the elimination of unreasonably high prices for coal.

The general meeting of soft coal operators adjourned after adopting a resolution pledging their support to coal.

Former King Constantine Still Appears To Maintain Attitude He's Occupant Of Greek Throne

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Former King since the inception of his son's illness, King Constantine still appears to maintain the attitude that he is occupant of the Greek throne, says a dispatch to the London Times from its foreign correspondent. For this reason it is uncertain whether he will give up the succession to his son, Prince Paul, who is better known to the inhabitants of Lucerne as an ex-student than a student of international politics. signment to the throne has been received with great interest by Prince Paul, and now he is taking action to the point of appealing to Queen Sophia, who re-

DON'T GO BACK TO OLD LONG DAY OF LABOR AND SMALL PAY URGES COX; UPHOLDS LEAGUE

Democrat Leader Says
League Will Prevent War;
Appeals To All To Keep The
Faith With Soldier Dead

(By H. W. August) [Cry for Peace Is
The Cry of God]

A new order, substituting human happiness and welfare for human misery, and the suppression of the "secessorial oligarchy" were advocated by Governor James M. Cox, the choice of the Democratic people as their presidential candidate. In his speech to the thousands of people gathered in Government Square Tuesday afternoon, who rested in inclement weather conditions to hear him speak.

Governor Cox reiterated his statement that he has stood by throughout the campaign that the country was in the most propitious condition in history at the present time and that a return to "isolation," as advocated by Senator Harding, would meant to go backward instead of forward.

"The time has come for a change in the world," asserted the speaker, "and I am in favor of a new order that makes war impossible. That's why I am in favor of the League of Nations as the covenant in its present form will provide a world peace if accepted by the voters of America."

"The soul of America has been aroused during the last two weeks," stated Governor Cox, "and it has become impossible to address the people who have turned out wanting to know about the nation's future. During this time I have talked to people not by the thousands but by the acres."

During the early part of his speech Governor Cox recited to the crowd that the last time he was in Portsmouth he was escorted by the War Mothers of this city, who had given their sons in the cause of humanity, and to whom he paid a touching tribute.

Pleads for League
To Avoid War

"The sons of those War Mothers fought then in order that there might be no more war," said the speaker, pleading for the adoption of the League of Nations, that he classified as a document that repudiated war. "I remember well the pledge we made at that time. And I am here fighting for a cause that will stop the carrying out of that pledge, possibly the League of Nations."

"The cause of peace is almost too sacred to be a political question," added the Democratic candidate, "but it was dragged in. I want the people of Portsmouth to understand that I am not fighting for the Democratic party, and if elected I shall not look upon it as a victory for that party but a victory of peace."

Leading the spirit of the crowd in West Virginia, Governor Cox told the thousands that turned out to hear him speak in one little jolting camp in West Virginia Monday, said Cox, "where for a long time they haven't had enough ears to give them steady sound enough to carry a long time. They were ordered to report to work bright and early Monday morning but they said that the mine would not work on that day because a friend of theirs was coming. That is the spirit that is enveloping the entire state."

"Do You Want to Go to Gin Back?" Asks Cox

"The Republican party is talking about getting back to normal," asserted Governor Cox, "and I want to know how many of you want to go back to normal, which means yesterday, the long day of labor and the small amount of pay."

Answering to the widespread statements made concerning the Wilsonian will suffer the greatest "mortal crisis." League of Nations, Cox asserted that the world has ever known," charged the speaker, "that if we go into the covenant of the league will be the signal of the former thinkers and scholars of great prosperity."

Speeches to Crowd

Speaking at the meeting in soldier Cox was the leader beneath the high school auditorium. Governor the blood-soaked fields of France and Cox asserted that he was fighting for Flanders. Shall we not keep the cause of peace between all the nations that we have in the world?

"The common tragedy of the world hour of a national crisis?" We want to make sure that the great British War has made possible the formation of our boys won in the World War will be made an additional link.

"There has been a new plan evolved to the chagrin of the people present to which Britain in the world never had a chance to do it is that it is a competitor," asserted Governor Cox. "Our confidence realizes that the world will be able to accomplish, except still another war. We that States of America is not in Europe."
